chopstick stool

by tug studio

€560*

about tug studio furniture for inspiring places – that's what tug studio stands for. the special feature of their first piece "chopstick stool" is the plug-in connection between the chair legs and the seat, which is created by splitting the legs. instead of food, the sticks grip the seat of the stool. each piece is made with the finest care in a traditional bavarian carpentry workshop, where the appreciation for craftsmanship and materials has a long tradition. the chopstick stool is available in three pastel colors – light rosé, blue-grey and light blue – as well as in black.
