hand-built stoneware vase

a slim cylinder, tapered gently at both ends. deep black below, cool and quiet; above, a matte white with a breath of rosé. the silhouette is strict and reduced — a vessel that works through posture rather than volume. each piece is built by hand and signed by the maker — one of one. glazed inside and fired at 1220 °c, watertight and suitable for fresh flowers. small variations in colour and surface are part of it.
