coffee dripper and carafe in glass, oak and stoneware

a coffee dripper with carafe in glass, oak and stoneware, designed for function first. 2024.the oak ring adjusts in height to measure by volume and serves as a handle against burns. the chamfered opening of the carafe takes the spout of the stoneware dripper. with 5 mm walls, the carafe absorbs the excess heat of freshly brewed coffee and keeps it at a steady drinking temperature. at 70 mm across it fits on small scales without covering the display, and holds close to 500 ml. tested with kalita wave filters.open edition, made to order — ships from the studio within two calendar weeks.linacisoro design is the studio of joshua linacisoro in donostia–san sebastián. he studied product design at elisava and industrial design engineering at mu mondragón, and trained as a technical draughtsman at easo politécnico.height 25 cm, width 10 cm, depth 10 cm.
