metapattern — magenta speckle study

by boolean&blur

an individual work from the metapattern series: a computationally generated relief, cast as a physical panel. the underlying geometry belongs to the wider series, while the material mixture, magenta colouring and hand-applied surface finish make this piece unique. wall-mounted, supplied with hanging hardware. 17.5 × 35 cm, 2 cm deep. this piece ships from the artist's studio in london. because it enters the eu from outside, we prepare the customs paperwork; duties and import vat are prepaid, so nothing is due on delivery.
